

LENNON & KOSELKE, P.C.

Specialists in the Development of Human Potential

The Family Bonding & Attachment Center of Lennon & Koselke, P.C. specializes in helping to maintain foster placements and in transitioning children from residential treatment facilities and acute psychiatric hospitals to permanent homes. Our transitional therapeutic foster homes are an integral part of L & K's Therapeutic Village in preparing emotionally wounded children for reunification with their biological parents or for adoption. Our treatment team provides Intensive Bonding and Attachment Therapy for children who present a high risk for disrupting their placement due to serious acting out behavior. The behaviors that often result in failed placements includes: physical aggression to self and others, destruction of property, poor impulse control, running away, sexually acting out, fire setting, severe mood swings, sleeping problems, and animal cruelty.

Our experienced and trained clinical staff assesses each child by observing, interviewing, and thoroughly reviewing previous psycho-logical, psychiatric, psycho-educational, and neurological evaluations. Specific information obtained includes: family of origin and genetic predispositions; reasons for parental termination and history of placements including foster homes, residential treatment facilities and acute psychiatric hospitalizations; precipitating factors for failed placements; therapists seen and treatment modalities implemented; developmental milestones reached; current physical health; cognitive capabilities; academic levels; emo-tional stability; previous diagnoses given; history of psychotropic medications used; and current level of risk to self and others.
